CARRIER PIGEONS.

There Use on Land and Sea Is Steadily Increasing.

Here is a new word for you, columbophilism. It means raising and training messenger pigeons. Within the last few years this industry has grown wonderfully. The governments of Belgium, Germany, France and the United States are training these birds to serve as messengers from army stations. The United States makes use of them more especially from ships. Nearly every one of our big ships carries a coop of homing pigeons, as they are called, which are released as occasion demands, and almost without exception the birds go with unerring swiftness to their home on shore, carrying a tiny tube fastened to one leg, which contains a message written on the thinnest of paper. They can be depended upon to go a hundred miles at a speed of fifty miles an hour when they are three years old. Special attention has recently been paid in France to the use of carrier pigeons by the cavalry. The bird is placed in a wicker tube lined with hair to deaden the effect of the jolting. Three such tubes can be carried in a basket, which is attached to the rider's shoulders in the same way as a knapsack. The bird's feet are drawn up and its wings are folded when it is placed in the tube, and a light form of folding cage is carried, in which the birds can rest and eat during a halt. Twelve men are sent every year from the French cavalry ranks to attend a course of instruction in the treatment and handling of pigeons at the military pigeon station at Vaugrard. The sense that guides the pigeon back to its home is as much a mystery now as it ever was. When set at liberty, it immediately rises in the air in a spiral, higher and higher, as if getting its bearings, then away it goes in the right direction. At nightfall the bird goes into camp near water, and early next morning resumes the journey.—Little Chronicle.

MAP-MAKING

Involves Patient Research and a Big Expenditure of Money.

The exploration of three-fourths of our vast domain has been the work of our government and private citizens. In a broad sense it has been well done, and in the past twenty-one years it has been succeeded by detailed studies and surveys, which should be specially mentioned, for they are a phase of exploration which has been carried out on a large scale only in the nineteenth century, and which is essential to the production of the most accurate maps. No topographic features or town or the distribution of economic resources can be mapped with the greatest attainable accuracy till these surveys are made. They involve, first, the preparation of a topographic map showing the relief or inequalities of the surface, the drainage and the works of man, such as roads, railroads, boundaries, and towns; second, the geologic map, printed in colors upon the topographic base map, showing the distribution of the rock formation, soils, useful minerals, artesian waters, etc. These surveys and the resulting maps are one of the most scientific developments of geography research in this century, says Cassier's Magazine. They have been completed in all countries of Europe except in Norway, Spain, Turkey and some of the Balkan states. The great survey of India is one of the monuments of cartography, and similar surveys are far advanced in Algeria and Tunis. The topographic work has been carried by our general government, with the assistance of a few states, into all the states and territories and nearly a third of our entire area has now been completed. The labor is enormous and costly.

To Whom It May Concern:

We wish to notify the citizens of this county that we have secured the agency for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Sick Headache and stomach Trouble, and guarantee it to do as recommended. We always keep the best drugs on hand and solicit a call, promising the very best of everything. Yours truly, W. T. HILL.

Many George Washingtons.

The attention of the pension bureau has been called to one regiment in the civil war in which, according to the rolls, twenty-eight colored George Washingtons served. A single company shows a membership of thirteen George Washingtons by the applications filed.

Dilke's Political Views.

Sir Charles Dilke, the famous radical and republican, sees only a gloomy outlook for English liberalism and thinks the conservatives will be in power for a long time to come.

Reports show a greatly increased death rate from throat and lung troubles, due to the prevalence of croup, pneumonia and grippe. We advise the use of One Minute Cough Cure in all of these difficulties. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Children like it. W. T. Hill.

NORTHERN WISCONSIN DEVELOPMENT

That rapidly developing territory which lies the northern half of Wisconsin is now open enough to cause the capitalists and visionaries of the world to flock to it. It is a frontier life, and old enough to attract the tending settler on a small scale, and the highest point of perfection in the good roads and other improvements. All that is needed is a small amount of capital, supplemented by the labor of the rest. The iron ore, the timber and the rich soil, and the proximity to the settler and the market, make it cheap and can be purchased at a low price.

THE WISCONSIN CENTRAL

offers facilities for the quick and cheap transportation of its products and its people to the very center of this northern territory. Its choice of location and its proximity to the water, its ample and well equipped facilities for handling and shipping, and its full description of its territory, can be obtained by sending for a copy of the W. H. Killebrew's "Wisconsin Central" to Geo. T. Jones, General Manager, Burton's Block, Chicago, Ill. J. A. C. Jones, General Agent, Antioch, Ill.

Congress.

In the Senate on Tuesday Senator Fry gave notice he intended to keep shipping bill to the front, even as against appropriation bills, not yielding to them without vote of Senate. This indicated disposition on part of Senate leaders to force to early issue question whether shipping bill is going to pass at this session. Mr. Turner spoke in severe arraignment of bill, declaring it to be "lawless, piratical raid upon the Treasury" in interest of few private beneficiaries and committing government to expenditures aggregating $270,000,000. Committee amendments were informally agreed to. Indian appropriation bill was passed early in day. The House spent day upon agricultural appropriation bill. Mr. Corliss (Mich.) made vigorous onslaught upon bureau of animal industry of Agricultural Department, but his attack raised host of defenders, and his amendment to reduce appropriation for bureau was overwhelmingly defeated. All that portion of bill relating to reorganization of scientific bureaus of Agricultural Department went out on point of order raised by Mr. Mahon (Pa.).

Wednesday the Senate spent in debate on the shipping bill after an unsuccessful attempt to secure an agreement to the conference report on the army reorganization bill. The House passed the agricultural appropriation bill.

On Thursday the Senate, by a vote of 33 to 25, agreed to the conference report on the army reorganization bill. The shipping bill was discussed during the latter part of the day, and some progress was made on amendments. A speech by Mr. Rawlins of Utah against the bill was in progress at the close of the day. The House passed the fortifications appropriation bill and made fair progress with the postoffice appropriation bill. During the general debate upon the former bill Mr. Lanham of Texas delivered a notable speech upon the future of the Democratic party, making a strong plea for the necessity of united Democracy and counseled the burial of the hatchet and the welcoming back of those who in the last two presidential campaigns have declined to support the nominees of the party. Many amendments were offered to the postoffice appropriation bill in the interest of various claims of postoffice employees, but they all went down before points of order raised by Mr. Ladd, the chairman of the postoffice committee, who was in charge of the bill.

The Senate spent Friday considering the shipping bill. The House passed an omnibus bill carrying 101 claims for stores and supplies taken by the Union army during the rebellion. The claims were passed on by the court of claims and aggregated $34,480. Practically all the beneficiaries reside in the South. Considerable opposition to the bill was displayed under the leadership of Mr. Cannon, the chairman of the appropriations committee, but it flattened out later and the bill finally was passed without division. The bill to amend the Chinese exclusion act, with a view to preventing the fraudulent entry of Chinese into the United States, was passed.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock Saturday and with the exception of an hour and a half at the beginning of the session devoted the entire day to the discussion of the ship subsidy bill. Mr. Turner and Mr. Mallory were the speakers in behalf of the opposition. Mr. Turner's speech was based largely upon exceptions which he had taken to Mr. Fry's criticisms of his former speech. Mr. Mallory opposed the bill on constitutional grounds. Passed the bill authorizing the construction of a public building at Hammond, Ind., to cost $125,000. The House spent the day until 3 o'clock in the consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill. The struggle over the question of restoring the appropriation for pneumatic tube service and of the reduction of railway mail pay were precipitated by amendments offered, but no action was taken. At 3 o'clock public business was suspended to permit the members to pay tribute to the late Senator Davis of Minnesota.

The ship subsidy bill was laid aside informally by the Senate on Monday to permit consideration of the appropriation bills. The shipping bill holds its place, and as unfinished business can be taken up when the appropriation bills are not occupying attention. The greater part of Monday was given to a speech by Mr. Bacon of Oregon on the right of the Senate to demand information on file in the executive departments. He took the position that the departments are the creatures of Congress, and that departmental denial of any demand for papers on file was preposterous, contending that for a hundred years there had been practically no refusal to recognize this right. Secretary Long's letter regarding Santiago naval rewards caused a discussion in which Senators upheld their course in this matter. The House passed the Senate bill to create a commission to adjudicate the claims of United States citizens against Spain which the government of the United States assumed by the treaty of Paris, after having amended the bill so as to refer the claims to the court of claims instead of to a commission. A strong effort was made to vote down the amendment and pass the Senate bill, but the advocates of this course were defeated by a majority of 65. A bill was passed without debate to extend the charter of national banks for another period of twenty years after 1902, when the present extension expires. Bills to ratify the agreement with the Crow Indians of Montana and to provide for the redemption of Hawaiian coin at par were defeated. About an hour was spent on the postoffice appropriation bill. In the discussion of the amendment to reduce the railway mail pay, but no action was taken.

A Dublin Flower.

Not long ago, in the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall were driving through Dublin, a courteous man ran alongside their carriage for such a distance that the Duchess stopped it, and asked the man his wishes.

"Puffing very little for one who had run so far, the man replied that it had long been his desire to get a good look at their royal highnesses."

"But how did you keep up such a pace?" asked the Duchess.

"Oh, sure, ma'am, haven't I been chasin' pigs all me life?" said he.

A reply which surely indicated that a poor courtier had been spoiled to make a good pig-jobber.

PRESIDENT OF PRESIDENTS.

A Distinguished Lady, Indeed, Is Mrs. Mary E. Poole, of Whiting, Ind.

Whiting, Ind., Feb. 4, 1901.—(Special.)—The presidents of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic have an association composed exclusively of the presidents of the different State associations. This Presidents' Association chooses a president, and to this very high and distinguished position Mrs. Mary E. Poole of this place has been elected.

Mrs. Poole is thoroughly conversant with the great honor. Her devotion to the interests of the association is very marked, and her experience with the old soldiers of the G. A. R. is wide. Mrs. Poole is never slow to take advantage of anything that may benefit the veterans, and her zeal has resulted in much that is good to these grand old men. She writes of her experiences: "Honor to whom honor is due, and having seen the numerous cures effected through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, I gladly endorse them as being particularly effective to cure that dreaded disease of so many of our old soldiers, Bright's Disease, and Kidney Disorders of different kinds. Kidney Disease soon poisons the entire system, and as a result the vital organs are attacked, and I have found that no remedy so surely, completely and quickly finds the weak spot and heals it as Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I have used them myself in slight attacks of biliousness and indigestion, and usually find that from three to four pills do the work."

Such evidence from a lady of so much distinction and experience should convince any sufferer from Kidney Trouble that Dodd's Kidney Pills is the remedy that never fails. 50c a box, six boxes for $2.50. Buy them from your local druggist if you can. If he can't supply you, send to the Dodds Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Still a Secret.

"Yes," announced the wild-eyed man, "I have invented a perpetual motion machine, which is running constantly."

"What makes it run?" inquired the capitalist.

Chronic Nasal Catarrh poisons every breath that is drawn into the lungs. There is procurable from any druggist the remedy for its cure. A small quantity of Ely's Cream Balm placed into the nostrils spreads over an inflamed and angry surface, relieves immediately the painful inflammation, cleanses, heals and cures. Drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, use Ely's Cream Balm. It is reliable and will cure catarrh, cold in the head and hay fever easily and pleasantly. All druggists sell it at 50 cents or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 50 Warren St., N. Y.

The shortest and surest way to live with honor in the world is to be in reality what we would appear to be; and if we observe, we shall find that all human virtues increase and strengthen themselves by the practice and experience of them.—Socrates.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Ely's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only catarrh cure in the world. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, Ely Brothers, 50 Warren St., N. Y.

BURIAL OF A QUEEN

Victoria's Remains Borne with Splendor to the Tomb.

GRIEF AMID POMP.

Spectacle One of Combined Magnificence and Humility.

Royalty Pays Final Homage to the Dead Sovereign—Victoria's Journey to Earth from Whence She Came and Over Which She Ruled—Most Impressive Pageant in World's History—Guns Thunder Their Grief in Sonorous Salutes.

The scenes of solemn pomp which were inaugurated at Cowes Friday and which were brought to a close Saturday with the solemn services at Windsor are probably unparalleled in the history of funeral pageantry. All England apparently reeled hushed and thrilled in the mournful consciousness that it was to say a final farewell to its queen, and the world at large could not but be impressed by the remarkable ceremonial in which national grief displayed itself. It would seem from the fact of her expressed wish for a military funeral, that Queen Victoria desired that in the rites nothing should be omitted to emphasize the dignity of queenhood. Victoria the woman, the "mother of her people," was assured of the sincere mourning of all classes. The recent ceremonies were those due the monarch and the wearer of the crown. The file of warships between which the vessel bearing the Queen's coffin passed—in itself a visible evidence of the strength of the nation—the wall of bands and the thunder of guns and the great military cortege which awaited the body at London—all the features of the ceremonial were suggestive in some way of the regal traditions of a monarchy which traces its origin back to the days of the crusading kings.

Journey from Cowes. The first portion of the journey of Victoria to the earth whence she came and over so large a portion of which she ruled was completed Friday. Through winding lanes of almost summer verdure, through floating walls of steel-bulwarks of the mourning nation—her body was borne; on land by a gun carriage, on water by a royal yacht.

As the cannon wended its slow way from Osborne House the afternoon sun shone brightly on the jewels in the crown and scepter placed on the coffin, which contained the body of the dead sovereign. Over the royal standard covering the casket was draped the ermine coronation gown donned by the youthful ruler so many years before.

Behind the cortege came Kings, Emperors and princes, walking humbly between the black clad lines of sorrowing islanders. All the colors of a dozen royal courts were massed in the uniforms of the rulers of a half dozen nations and their trains. The sunlight gleamed from the hilts of jeweled swords and gemmed decorations.

When the journey through the cedar-hedged path was ended there followed a sight notable and impressive. It was the transit of the funeral yacht across the waters between walls of warrior steel. Battleship after battleship thundered its grief, and after band wailed its dirge, and crew after crew bowed low their heads as the plumed yacht swept past. It bore no passengers save an admiral on the bridge and four red-coated guards at the corners of the simple, gleaming white bier resting amidships.

It was a picture that neither a painter's brush nor an orator's eloquence could depict. There swept in advance, eight enormous, black torpedo boats, crawling so slowly that the water was scarcely rippled. Then came the solitary royal yacht bearing apparently no living thing. Admiral Fillerton, in a cocked hat, was a motionless silhouette, the four figures at the corners of the coffin seemed to be of stone. The boat slowly glided on in the mellow light of the afternoon sun, itself almost hidden in line, sharply contrasting with the black warships, while the nearest shore seen between the warships was itself deeply fringed with mourning by the presence of myriads of human beings.

The Albert emerged from the smoke-crowned steel lane, the last gun was fired, the sun sank behind a cloud, a new moon hung low in the winter sky, the anchor dropped in Portsmouth harbor, and the first part of Victoria's last journey came to an end.

Somewhere the pomp and parade was not incongruous and one felt that it was all a great and majestic tribute to a reign which was an era and to a sovereign to whom the world has paid its highest honors.

Victoria Laid to Rest.

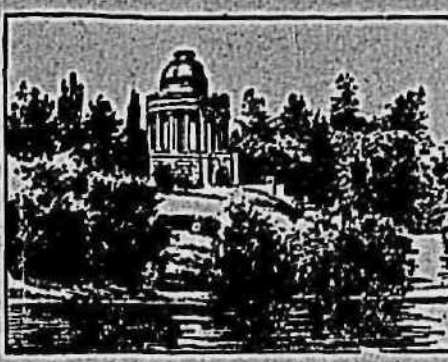

In the scenes witnessed Saturday the historic character of the ceremony was emphasized both in the pageantry and in the environment wherein they took place. The body, after it had been borne across London, from Victoria to Paddington station, was taken to Windsor, the historic home of English royalty since the days of the Norman conquest. There, in St. George's chapel, a beautiful structure hung with the tapestries and banners of her royal ancestors and reminders of her royal lineage, the body of the late Queen was laid to rest. The body of the late Queen was laid to rest in the tomb which she had ordered to be built in 1827, with the words, "Farewell, beloved! Here I rest with thee; with thee, in Christ, I will rise again!"

VICTORIA'S RESTING PLACE.

Sleeps by the Side of Her Husband at Frogmore.

The remains of the late Queen of Great Britain were laid to rest beside the grave of the prince consort in the beautiful mausoleum which she built for the purpose. The royal tomb is situated within the grounds of Frogmore House, which stands in Windsor Park. From the windows of Windsor Castle the Queen had a fine view of the mausoleum and frequently in summer time she used to drive to Frogmore for breakfast or afternoon tea. The grounds in which the mausoleum stands are very ornamental and many of the trees were planted by the Queen's hands.

The mausoleum erected by Queen Victoria for her own remains and those of the prince consort is beautiful and cost $1,000,000. The interior is filled with handsome Italian carvings, heroic statues, colored marbles, bronze ornamentation and mosaics, all in medieval fashion. Years of loving supervision were spent by the Queen in elaborating the details. The sarcophagus of the prince is richly carved. On the marble slab containing the remains a marble effigy of the prince reposes. By its side there will be placed an effigy of the Queen. At the head of the granite steps are two bronze figures of angels guarding the door, and near the portal is a fresco of Christ breaking from the tomb. The crucifixion and the adoration are also the subjects of fine frescoes. Among the statues are those of David, Solomon, Daniel and Isaiah. There is a blue and gold canopy, and the windows are of stained glass.

WILCOX IS ASSAILED.

Hawaiian Delegate Is Styled Bigamist and Traitor.

Quite a sensation was created in the congressional committee on privileges and elections Friday by a committee of Hawaiians, who charged Robert W. Wilcox, the Hawaiian delegate in Congress, with treason, and submitted several letters by him showing that he has been giving aid and sympathy to Aguinaldo and his insurgents in the Philippine Islands. The following are sample extracts: "I am already made up my mind," he says, "to join with you in your country against the Americans." "Between Gen. Aguinaldo's determination and myself it would be very little chances left to the invaded army of the United States to conquer your country." "Tell Gen. Aguinaldo I am already given my services for your country." "I am thinking to go to the Philippine Islands and give my assistance to Aguinaldo against the invaders and I proposed yankees, the carpet bagged politician Oils." "It is my duty to fight against them and support the independence of the Philippines." "In fighting and destroying the United States influence in the East I would have glory and honor and my work would be appreciated by the Philippines, by the Chinese and Japanese and Arabs. It is my great folly to lose all these chances."

It was also asserted that Wilcox was found guilty of treason against Hawaii in 1895 and sentenced to death, but the penalty was commuted to the payment of a fine and imprisonment. Charges have already been made against Wilcox for bigamy. His first wife, an Italian princess, claims that there has never been a legal separation.

There is big money in college football, particularly among the leading eleven. The report of the president of the Yale team for the past season shows that the gross receipts were nearly $45,000.

In the west basketball has been the rage for some time, but they are trying to improve the game with novel methods. Some of the teams have donned roller skates and have played the game with so much dash and vim that the patrons do not care for any other style.

The question of who is the greatest bicycle rider in the world will be settled when Major Taylor goes to Europe to tackle the foreign crickets. The dusky Major has cleared up everything in the sporting line on this side of the water, and it remains to be seen what he can do on the other side of the "pond."

TEXAS STREAM OF OIL

SURPASSES EVERYTHING IN PETROLEUM HISTORY.

A Great Lake of Precious Fluid Surrounds the Well—The State Is Oil Crazy—Thousands of Dollars Ready for Investment.

Excitement is still intense throughout the State of Texas over the remarkable discovery of oil at Beaumont, which is eighty miles east of Houston. This is certainly the most wonderful discovery in the history of the petroleum industry and it is not surprising that the State has gone oil mad and that everyone with money to invest wants to buy a derrick and set of drillers at work. Competent judges have estimated this flow to be anywhere from 10,000 to 40,000 feet per day; the largest flow ever known before was 6,000 feet, the product of a West Virginia well. The stream of petroleum that gushes forth from the bowels of the earth rises to a height of 120 feet. At its base it is six inches in diameter; at its apex it is as many feet.

Lake of Petroleum. About the well is a great lake of petroleum, the output of the well since it was "brought in." No way to control the great flow has yet been found, and the petroleum falls into the lake, which has been constructed about it, by running a plow through the ground, and then throwing up a levee. The first lake was too small, and another twice the size of the first was built, and this, too, will be too small also in a short time. Men are now working night and day building iron tanks to hold the oil, and as soon as a few of them are finished they will be hurried to Beaumont and work pushed on there.

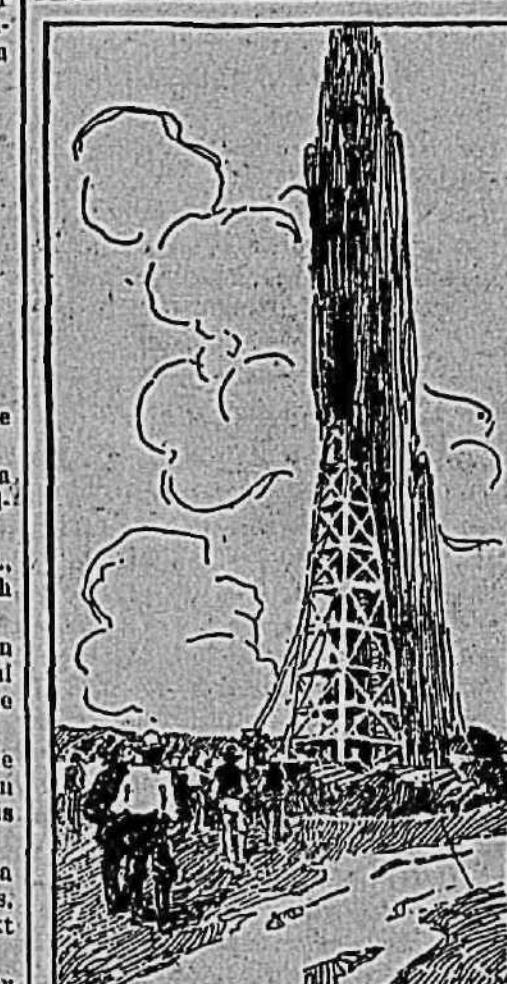

The man who dug the well is Capt. A. W. Lucas, who for more than two years has been experimenting about Beaumont. In an endeavor to locate the stream, which he was certain existed in that vicinity. Others before him had been convinced that there was an immense deposit of oil, but they lacked the pluck

PROPOSED ROUTE OF THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

The report of the Isthmian Canal Commission recommends that the canal be built from Brito, on the Pacific coast, to Lake Nicaragua, a distance of 17.70 miles. The canal line then crosses the lake, a distance of 17.34 miles. Leaving the lake, the canal follows the San Juan river as its course for 58.00 miles, to Ochoa, three miles above the mouth of the San Carlos river. From there the canal proper will be built to the Atlantic ocean, a distance of 43.93 miles. Lake Nicaragua is about 300 feet above sea level, and there will be four locks between Brito and the lake and six between Ochoa and the Atlantic.

or, the capital to find it. Lucas kept steadily at work. He had ample capital behind him; men who trusted to his experience, and who had as great faith in his judgment as he had himself. After boring a number of holes, which produced a little oil and a considerable amount of salt water, he finally struck the exact spot, and when his drill pipe had gone down some 600 feet he struck oil. That is a slang phrase that is familiar to everyone of the present generation. "Struck oil!" It sounds rich and expresses riches. Capt. Lucas struck oil with a vengeance; he struck more oil than was deemed possible, even by himself. When the flow began he estimated it at probably 5,000 barrels a day, and that would have meant great wealth to the owners of the well. But 20,000 barrels means more than four times the wealth, for the labor to get the oil is just the same outside of the cost of the tanks necessary to hold it.

The gas pressure in the well is tremendous. While there is no way of accurately measuring it, it is estimated that it is fully 500 pounds to the square inch. Such a pressure would be required to lift such a stream of oil. This gas is the natural gas to be found throughout the oil regions of Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and other States, and can be utilized for fuel just as readily at Beaumont as it can in Indiana or Ohio.

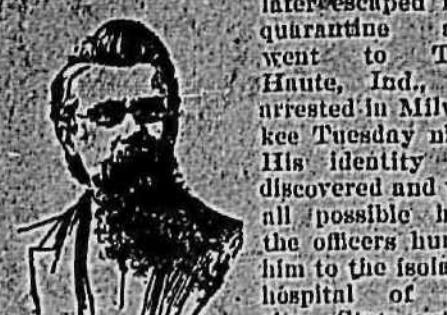

The members of Company A, Twenty-fourth Kansas, received their medals from the Kansas G. A. R. department at Topeka.

Southern Pacific Railroad has purchased 100,000 acres of land in the Texas oil belt.

RODERMUND IN CUSTODY.

The Appleton Doctor Arrested by the Police of Milwaukee.

Dr. M. J. Rodermund, of Appleton, Wis., physician who, it is claimed, deliberately exposed himself to smallpox and interfered with quarantine and went to Terre Haute, Ind., was arrested in Milwaukee Thursday night. His identity was discovered and with all possible haste the officers hurried him to the isolation hospital of that city. State authorities throughout Illinois and Indiana have for several days been scouring the country in search of Dr. Rodermund. After escaping quarantine in Appleton and making the sensational statement that "smallpox is but a superstition" he traveled to Terre Haute, Ind., where he was recognized. Rodermund said: "I went directly to Chicago and from there to Terre Haute, Ind. After staying there until the Appleton people could no longer interfere with me I returned. I am going back to Appleton, where I shall at once begin suit for $50,000 against that city for false imprisonment. Smallpox is not contagious, and I shall prove it in court before I get through."

HAY'S ORDERS TO CONGER.

Secretary of State Hay Has Sent Instructions to Minister Conger Relative to the Policy He Shall Pursue in the Settlement of All the Features of the Chinese Questions.

This was the result of a cabinet meeting. Mr. Conger is to urge his colleagues not to attempt to compel China to do the impossible in the matter of the execution of high Chinese officials; with respect to indemnity, he will endeavor to reach an agreement with his colleagues as to the amount to be demanded, to decide upon its distribution and in case of failure of agreement to have the question of distribution referred to The Hague court. He is also to urge the preparation of a general agreement respecting the commercial relations to exist between China and foreign powers. The impression is gaining ground in official circles that four more Chinese officials will be added to the list to be executed, making eight in all who will suffer the death penalty. The United States, Russia and Japan are vigorously opposing the demand of Great Britain and Germany for the execution of Prince Tuan, Gen. Tung Fuh Siang and Duke Lun.

INDIAN UPRISING IS QUELLED.

Warring Snakes Return Home—Will Arrest 200.

A Muskogee, I. T., special says that the Creek Indian uprising has been quelled and that the capture of their leaders the Snake bands have laid down their arms and gone to their homes. Tom Tiger, a Creek light horseman, was put in jail for posting notices ordering white men out of the country. Enough information has been gathered to secure the arrest of about 200 full-bloods on a charge of treason against the United States government. Statements made by Bear Trail and a few other full-bloods show that the Indians had in mind a great conspiracy which embraced the full-bloods of the five civilized tribes. In a month more every white man's house in the Creek country would have been burned but for discovery of the plot.

BIG RAILROAD DEAL.

Union Pacific Acquires Control of the Southern Pacific.

The Southern Pacific has been absorbed by the Union Pacific. Notice of the consummation of the deal was made public in New York Friday and it startled the railroad and financial world. Union Pacific interests obtain more than two-fifths of the entire capital stock of $20,000,000. The gigantic deal is but a preliminary to the ocean-to-ocean Vanderbilt line that is ultimately to link New York and San Francisco with a band of steel rails owned or controlled by one company. The present owners of the Union Pacific represent the Vanderbilt, Standard Oil and kindred interests.

The vast transaction, the consummation of which changes the railroad map of the United States and calls into existence the largest railway system in the world, was carried out by private negotiation. Upward of $80,000,000, par value of Southern Pacific stock has been acquired and the original dreams of the promoters of the first Pacific enterprises—a thorough route under one ownership from the Missouri river to the Golden Gate—has at last been accomplished.

No details were forthcoming as to the price paid for the stock or the method of financing the purchase or the future management of the Southern Pacific company. All that is definitely known is that the Speyer and Huntington interests in Southern Pacific have been acquired by the Harriman party in Union Pacific, and that the $157 miles of road owned, operated or leased by the Union Pacific road, added to the 7,014 miles similarly controlled by the Southern Pacific company, making a total of 15,771 miles, will in the future be operated in the closest possible harmony. To the Union Pacific the acquisition is of the greatest possible value, as it assures for all time the transcontinental character of the property, which is without similar import to the Southern Pacific company, which is definitely assured of two permanent routes to the East, the direct line via the Central Pacific to Ogden and another southern line to eastern tidewater at New Orleans, on the Gulf of Mexico.

OUTLOOK FOR WHEAT CROP.

Department of Agriculture Report Shows Good Condition.

The crop division of the weather bureau reports that the weather conditions during January were generally favorable for winter wheat, although adverse reports were received from Kansas, Missouri and Texas of lack of moisture, and from Kentucky, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland of injury by alternate frosts and thawing and lack of snow protection. At the close of the month the condition of wheat was about the average in most sections, excepting Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee, notwithstanding continued reports of damage to the early-sown by Hessian fly, in some portions of Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Virginia. The crop is suffering from drought in Texas and western Kansas, and needs rain in some districts of Missouri. On the Pacific coast favorable weather for this cereal prevailed, and the condition of the crop continues excellent, the grain having germinated nicely, being well rooted and making healthy growth. The following are the special reports from Western States:

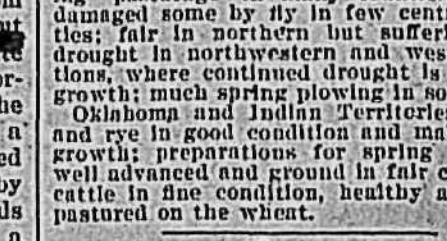

Missouri—A remarkably mild, pleasant month; no snow to protect wheat, but ground very dry; early sown wheat injured by freezing and thawing; early sown considerably damaged by fly in eastern and southern counties; otherwise crop continues in good condition, though needing rain in some districts.

Illinois—Average condition of wheat favorable; some improvement in early sown; snow protection until toward end of month, but damage by freezing and thawing is slight; considerable injury by Hessian fly is manifest, but it seems less serious than it did in December.

Indiana—Weather mild and dry, not much snow except last few days; wheat in fair condition; fly in early sown; young and old clover in good condition and not frozen; rye and wheat; tobacco striking progress; some corn ground prepared; live stock in good condition on pasture and abundance of food.

Ohio—Weather generally mild until close of month; rainfall deficient, snow protection deficient until last week; two tows inches of snow on ground at end of month; wheat in fairly good condition in middle and north, but in south there are reports of winter kill; corn in good condition; live stock in good condition on pasture and abundance of food.

Kansas—Wheat in good condition in eastern and southern counties, and still offering pasturing in many counties, though damaged some by fly in few central counties; much spring plowing in south; corn and rye in good condition and making fair growth; preparations for spring planting well advanced and ground in fair condition; cattle in fine condition, healthy and being pastured on the wheat.

ILLINOIS LAWMAKERS.

Representative Edwards of Cook County Introduces a Resolution in the House Tuesday morning calling for a constitutional convention. He wanted the resolution made a special order for a week from that day, but some Democrats objected, and although he tried to put through a resolution to that end he failed to secure the necessary two-thirds vote. Representative Wilcox of the Democratic side of the House put a "gold-friend" bill. It is the old bill which comes up at every session fixing sleeping-car charges at $1 for a lower berth for each 300 miles of travel. Senator Mitchell introduced in the Senate a bill to authorize the South Park Commissioners of Chicago to issue bonds to the extent of $500,000 for the completion of the South Park system and for improving Jackson Park. Senator Fred A. Busse put in a bill to increase the salaries of the Circuit Judges in Cook County and of the State's Attorney to $12,000 a year. Both houses adjourned out of respect for the memory of the late Judge William J. Allen.

The House on Wednesday passed the Pan-American Exposition bill, and it went to the Governor for his signature. As it carried with it an emergency clause the bill becomes a law as soon as the Governor signs his name. The bill appropriates the sum of $75,000 for the purpose of erecting an Illinois building on the grounds. The Governor is required to appoint seven commissioners, four of whom must be Republicans, who together with the two Vice Presidents from the State will constitute the Illinois State Commission of the exposition. Among some of the bills which were out of the ordinary that were introduced was one put in by Senator "Mike" Butler of Chicago making every Saturday afternoon a legal half-holiday. Michael Hnat of Chicago put in a bill regulating the working hours of pharmacists or drug clerks in Chicago, providing that no druggist or drug clerk shall be required to work more than seventy hours a week. George Bruckmann of Cook County put in a bill providing that no Union soldiers and sailors honorably discharged may peddle merchandise not prohibited by law in any county or municipality without the payment of a license fee. Joe Helmfish introduced a bill which in effect repeals the teachers' pension act. John A. Logan of Elgin introduced a bill which was prepared by the association of chiefs of police of the cities of Illinois creating a board of commissioners to have charge of police departments of cities of over 7,000 and under 100,000 population.

Gus Noble on Thursday introduced a bill prohibiting railroads from passing passes to members of the Legislature and making it a felony for legislators to accept free transportation, and the bill was read the first time, advanced to second reading and made the special order for next Wednesday morning. Representative McCulloch of Peoria scored the highest mark on appropriation when he introduced two bills for appropriations for the Bartonville insane asylum near Peoria, aggregating almost $1,000,000. Senator Stubbfield introduced a bill which prohibits the sale of cigarettes or cigarette paper in Illinois. It is identical with a bill introduced in the House the previous week. Speaker Sherman announced the appointment of the following committees on the rights of the minority: F. J. Sullivan, Farrell, Mitchell, Crafts, D. B. Sullivan, Wilson, Hunt, Janpus, Tipple, Donoghue, Hoffmann, Johnston, Purdum, Warder, Gray and Craig. Gov. Yates signed his first bill on Thursday. It was the Pan-American exposition bill which passed the House the previous day. The Governor had provided himself with a gold pen to be used exclusively for signing bills, and he wrote his name with it on bill No. 1.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock Friday morning with five members in their seats. Senator Gardner was elected president pro tem, and called the Senate to order. After prayer by the chaplain and the approval of the journal, on motion of Senator Stubbfield, the Senate adjourned until 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Representative Curtis introduced a bill to amend the laws of the State relating to the office of State auditor of roads, who is directed to cooperate with and advise all road officers in the State relative to the construction and maintenance of hard roads. The bill directs the method and procedure of providing hard roads and for the payment of the expense thereof. The other bill provides that fifteen legal voters in any township may petition for the construction of hard roads, and it makes it the duty of the township board of trustees for holding an election to vote on the proposition. Gov. Yates has appointed Edward S. Brown of Evanston a member of the military staff, with the rank of colonel.

House and Senate held the usual joint session Monday evening. The first named body adopted resolutions on the death of S. P. V. Arnold, who was a member of the House in the last General Assembly. George O. Hanna of Monmouth was in the Speaker's chair. Speaker Sherman was called to attention by the death of an infant.

Publishers Notice.

Owing to the absence of our foreman, Geo. W. S. Sutton, who starts Saturday of this week for a brief visit to his parents in Providence, Rhode Island, and to the fact that it is almost impossible to procure competent help to take his place for a short time, we have decided not to publish a paper next week, and our advertisers and others, will govern themselves accordingly.

The office will be open every day as usual for the transaction of business in the job printing line, and if you want to give "the old man" a chance to see how readily he can drop into the harness and how neatly he can turn out the work, just bring in that job you have been saving up for just such an emergency. If you want to talk politics with us, please do not stop us on the street, especially if on our way home to dinner, as we are apt to get chilled under such circumstances, are pretty sure to get a cold dinner and a frosty reception when we get home. If you want to pay up arrears, subscribe for the paper or liquidate that little bill for job work or advertising, call at the office, stop us on the street at any time or place, call us out of bed, even though Mrs. Rohrer recommends that an editor be allowed to sleep as much as he wants to, in an article in a recent issue of the Ladies Home Journal; but this of course was intended as a hint to the editors wife not to disturb the mighty mind while in the repose of dreamland. The editor, however, inured to such things, can read between the lines, that he may be disturbed to take in money, as that is apt to be competitive to his nightly and day dreaming.

Last, but not least, if you have a burning desire to lick the editor, please defer the job until Mr. Sutton returns.

Curious Verdicts of Juries.

Juries have more than once added to the gayety of cities by their curious verdicts, and the strange decision of a Chelsea jury recently does not stand alone. A Welsh coroner not long ago recorded a verdict on the death of a woman that she "fell into the Glamorganshire canal, whereby she died, and being of unsound mind did kill herself." A Leicester jury was ever more inexplicable. It returned a verdict of "willful murder" against a man, but added a rider to the effect that the jury did not believe he intended to kill the victim. But both these "good twelve and true" must give first place to the jury which arrived at an amazing decision in a case of damages for negligence. The jury found that a man fell downstairs in the dark, but agreed that the darkness was not due to the defendant's negligence. The plaintiff was nevertheless awarded a suitable sum, and it was suggested that the employer should erect a notice warning persons against falling downstairs—presumably in the dark.

Benjamin Harrison's Lunch.

Ex-President Benjamin Harrison, one of the ablest men who has figured in our public life, has always been handicapped by his unresponsive, cold manner. When he was in the senate, at Washington, D. C., in the early '80s, he always brought his luncheon to the committee room. He carried it in his coat pocket and would eat it while he went on with his work. One day when he got it out as usual from his pocket he looked it all over ruefully, for it did look rather flat and dubious. He finally remarked to those near by that he guessed he must have sat on it accidentally. One of his colleagues—one who had recently been ignored by Harrison—spoke up impulsively: "Well, Mr. Jove, Harrison; if you've sat on it, let bet you a sixpence it is frozen solid," and of course a shout went up in the whole committee. Harrison the joke kindly and joined in the laughter.

an Exalting Englishman.

Utah and the Boers at Pietersburg, crouching behind bowlders over a wide surface. The Englishman on either side emerged from the bushes at once the target of the Boer's bullets. A Boer, smiling and in bravado, made a sudden dash to join a neighbor. An Englishman had long watched the Boer and was aiming sick with hope. He fired, and the Boer fell. The Englishman was delighted with his luck that he threw himself on his back behind the shallow shelter of his bowlder and kicked his heels into air. In his transport his heel rose above the rock, as he was instantly made aware by a bullet striking his fluttering ankle.—New York Tribune.

THE FARMERS INSTITUTE.

A Successful Meeting with a Large Attendance.

The Seventh Congressional District Meeting of the Farmers Institute which was held at Millburn on Friday and Saturday of last week, in conjunction with the County Institute, was without doubt one of the most successful meetings held in the County since the institute was organized. The attendance was perhaps not as large as at some of the other meetings of the Institute, although the commodious church in which the institute was held, was comfortably filled at every session, but certainly the percent of farmers and their wives, sons and daughters was larger than at other meetings of the institute, and as this is mainly the class that the workers of the institute aim to reach, it can be safely set down that the attendance was all that could be desired.

Aside from the general intelligence and up-to-date characteristics of the people of Millburn they possess hospitable natures and are widely noted for their musical abilities, in fact music and song seems to have sprung spontaneously from the soil and to have impregnated the atmosphere so thoroughly that one need only open their mouth to break forth in song and melody.

Under such favorable circumstances it is not wonderful that the program on Friday evening was one of the very best, consisting of a recitation by Miss Sosy Lucas, a song by the quartette consisting of Mrs. Dr. Jemison, Miss Bator and Messrs. Ralph Spafford and George Dodge, a solo by Ralph Spafford, a duet by the Misses Thain, a solo by Mr. Ling, also solos by Ernest White, Miss Patch and Ralph Spafford. The chorus, "Mortgage the Farm," was among the best of the evening's productions although all features were enthusiastically received and in every instance those taking part in the program were obliged to respond to an encore. Mrs. R. L. Strang is deserving of especial commendation as an accompanist, she being equally at home on either the piano or organ.

THE INSTITUTE PROPER.

The first session of the institute was called to order Friday morning by President Ralph Chittenden, and after invocation of Divine blessing by the pastor, Rev. Mitchell, a brief explanation of the object and aims of the institute was made by Director H. D. Hughes, after which the regular work of the institute was taken up by an excellent paper by John A. Thain on Short Horn Cattle. After considerable discussion on the many good points drawn out by Mr. Thain's paper, an adjournment for dinner was taken, and with one accord a bee line was taken to the dining hall where the ladies of the church Aid Society provided meals for all. In this connection it is proper to say that the many good meals provided by the ladies of Millburn on similar occasions, suffered in comparison with the meals provided throughout the entire institute, and were it not that such rich cakes, crisp pies, tarts, cookies and other goodies, to say nothing of the big luscious chicken pies are productive of despondency, one faint would dine there forever and a day.

After dinner the subject of good roads was taken up and discussed at considerable length by Mr. Gross, of Chicago, and a resolution passed favoring state aid in the building of permanent improvements on the public highways. Alex Galbraith, of Janelle, then gave a very interesting talk on the conformation of the horse. Ellen D. Farwell, of Lake Forest, then read a very interesting paper on Birds in their Relation to Agriculture, which was an eloquent plea to spare the birds. H. M. Maxham, of Diamond Lake, then gave a brief talk on poultry, after which the institute adjourned for the evening meeting.

The evening session was called to order at seven o'clock, with all seats comfortably filled. The program as above set forth was then carried out, and Hon. A. S. Collins, of Harvard, was then introduced and gave an eloquent and stirring address, taking as his theme "What Inducements Does Farm Life Hold out for the Young People Today." Mr. Collins is certainly a speaker of great power and ability, and if the real farm life approaches near his ideal, farm life today must be an ideal sort of an existence, a sort of hazy, indistinct glimpse of paradise or the promised land, if one but reaches forth their hand to grasp it. There are however, some fellows "stripping" cows on the side of a tumbled-down shed with the thermometer indicating zero, who will probably combat Mr. Collins' ideal of farm life, yet the truth of the matter is that life upon the farm as elsewhere, depends in a great measure on what we make of it and how we take it.

Dr. W. B. Lewin, D. V. S., of Russell, read a very interesting and instructive paper on Tuberculosis in Cattle, which provoked considerable discussion among the farmers and stock raisers present, the Doctor holding to the theory which seems to be well established in practice, that the only way to determine the existence of the disease in a live animal or herd is to submit the animal to a tuberculin test, and that a rise of 2 1/2 degrees above the normal if maintained from two to four hours is a very strong indication of the existence of the disease.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY SECOND.

The morning session opened with prayer by the pastor, followed by a paper on Care of Milk From Cow to Creamery, by Elmer Cannon, in which Mr. Cannon gave some practical ideas along the line as the result of his own experience. C. C. Carpenter on potato culture, gave as the gist of his observations that there was a wrong as well as a right way in the seemingly simple way of cutting and planting potatoes, asserting that he found it more profitable to plant his potatoes when the soil and season was right than he did to plant them in the moon or under its influence, thus in a measure giving "old luna" a black eye as far as the potato is concerned.

Frank T. Holt, of Ranney, Wisconsin, was then introduced and read a very interesting paper on Ensilage and Experience with the Silo, in which many valuable and practical points gleaned from his own experience and observation were given.

Prof. A. D. Shamel, of the Illinois Agricultural College was next introduced and consumed the time until adjournment for dinner with a practical talk on smut in oats and how to avoid it, which cannot fail to be of great benefit to farmers. Prof. Shamel asserted and proved beyond a shadow of doubt that thousands of dollars was lost to the farmers of the state every year by the prevalence of smut in the oat crop. He strongly recommended the hot water treatment as a simple and inexpensive remedy and an absolute preventative of smut in the oat crop.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was called to order at one o'clock and the subject of Care and Management of Hogs was taken up by Mr. Maxham who showed quite clearly what should be done to produce the best results in breeding and fattening hogs; cleanliness, judgement, system and attention to the small details being in his opinion the great stumbling block over which many farmers register a failure in the successful breeding and handling of hogs.

The subject of corn breeding, selection and cultivation was then taken up by Prof. Shamel and during the course of his remarks, lasting nearly two hours, the closest attention was given by everyone and one could not but marvel as to how it were possible for an apparent boy to crowd into the few short years of his life a more intimate knowledge of corn than is possessed by any other man in the world to-day, but those who heard Mr. Shamel will hardly question the assertion, broad and sweeping as it may sound.

Hon. A. S. Collins, the silver tongued orator of Harvard, then spoke on "The Coming Farmer; Grade, Character, Results," painting such a beautiful word picture of the coming farmer that one need not be surprised to see him put on clean collars and cuffs and a swallow-tailed coat, when he goes into the parlor in the barn to milk the aesthetic cow.

A resolution was unanimously adopted requesting the Board of Supervisors to appropriate $75.00 towards the incidental expense of the Farmers Institute next year.

On behalf of the officers and members of the Institute the Secretary moved a vote of thanks to the trustees and members of the Congregational Church Society, those who took part in the evening's program and done so much to make that feature of the meeting a grand success, to the citizens of Millburn for their generous hospitality and last, but not least, to the Ladies Aid Society for the excellent meals furnished during the institute.

The pastor, Rev. Mitchell, in a few well chosen words, thanked the officers, members, speakers and visitors for the opportunity of becoming more in touch and better informed upon the great farming interests of to-day, and extended to all a most cordial invitation to visit his church at some future time and renew the bonds of friendship made at the institute. The business being completed, on motion the institute stood adjourned.

OBITUARY.

ALBERT HERMAN.

On Friday evening, February 1, 1901, the people of this community were grieved beyond measure to hear that Albert Herman had died suddenly, and unexpectedly about four o'clock that evening in a hospital in Chicago, where he had gone about a week previous to undergo what he and his friends supposed, would be a slight surgical operation. In fact few outside his immediate family and friends knew that he was absent or ill, and the news of his death came with the suddenness of the lightning's flash, or the crash of the mighty oak in the stillness of the forest, to those who knew, loved and respected him for his sterling manhood. Few indeed are they who are called upon to perform great deeds of valor for one's kindred or country, but they who manfully perform the duties of life, and stand for the right as God gives them to understand it in this age of sham and hypocrisy, are surely possessed of the stuff from which heroes are made and in this respect our departed friend needs no eulogy at our hands to perpetuate his memory, as none can detract from the fame of Albert Herman for candor, honesty and genuineness in all he done and said.

Albert Herman was born at Grass Lake, Lake County, Illinois, Nov. 5, 1863, and was one of eleven children, six boys, five girls, all of whom, together with the aged father and mother, survive to mourn the untimely death of a devoted son and brother. He was married to Miss Anna Brogan February 4, 1891 and shortly afterwards undertook the management of the old Hunters Home, one of the then popular summer resorts in the vicinity of Grass Lake, succeeding his father in its management. In 1893 he purchased some property on the north shore of Petite Lake, where he built a summer hotel known as the Queen of the West, which under his careful management rapidly grew in public favor and has been enlarged and improved to meet the requirements of its patrons until it became one of the largest and most popular summer resort hotels on the upper chain of lakes.

Of his own immediate family one boy and one girl, the former about eight years of age and the latter about three, who together with the devoted wife survive to cherish the memory of a loving husband and father, conscious of the fact that many hearts beat and in unison with their own, and that loving hands would gladly reach forth to avert the bitter cup and heal the broken hearts, were it in human power to do so. There is however One who can turn the darkest night of sorrow into the brightest day of joy, of hope, of gladness, and to Him we would commend them in this their hour of darkest sorrow.

The funeral services were held at St. Peters Church in this city Sunday, and despite the raging blizzard the church was packed to its utmost with a concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends who came to pay a last tribute of respect to the dead.

After the solemn and impressive High Mass Father Bruton paid a glowing tribute to the virtues of his deceased friend, and many were the tears that coursed down the cheeks of old and young as they realized that him who lay lifeless and cold before them was also their friend.

The remains were laid at rest Tuesday in the Grass Lake Cemetery, where at his own request he sleeps near the old home he loved so well.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for assistance and sympathy in our great trial and affliction, the choir at the funeral and the friends for flowers and all who by their presence and in other ways showed respect to our beloved dead.

Mrs. Albert Herman and Family.

A powerful engine cannot be run with a weak boiler, and we can't keep up the strain of an active life with a weak stomach; neither can we stop the human machine to make repairs. If the stomach cannot digest enough food to keep the body strong, such a preparation as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure should be used. It digests what you eat and it simply can't help but do you good. Wm. T. Hill.

MAN A PARADOX.

Incident That Go to Prove the Truth of the foregoing.

Being a man who does more thinking than talking and who is generally regarded as taciturn, his family were rather surprised when he laid down a standard magazine of the day and proceeded with a talk that suggested the propriety of his being on a platform. "I am no rose-water sentimentalist. I never allowed my heart to run away with my head. I have an individual entity as clearly defined as that of any man. I know how to reason and I'm not afraid of my conclusion.
I'm dead set against anarchy, socialism, communism and the whole nest of kindred vipers." That was his exordium, says the Detroit Free Press.
"But I've been reading an article here that just meets my views. I have what they call the money making faculty and have always prospered. But I believe with this writer that we should be more liberal with men and women who are not thus favored. When they work for us, share with them. Give them a good, generous show. Live and let live, those are my sentiments."
"I feel the same way," ventured his wife. "This very afternoon I raised the girl's wages 75 cents a week." "You did? Well, that's a pretty howdy-do.
Funny you wouldn't make it a couple of dollars more. You must think that I find money or have it sent to me by the government. I've been telling for years how thrifty and economical you were. Guess you must have lost your grip. You've got to get even with that girl by charging her up with all time lost, everything wasted, broken dishes and the use of the sewing machine. I'm no national bank." Then he was called to the kitchen by the man who put up the storm door. There was a war of words because the man wanted a dollar and the head of the house stuck at 60 cents. After they had split the difference and jawed as long as they could hear each other, the husband and father seized the book he had been reading, flung it into the corner and went to bed three hours before his usual time.

Etiquette in Mouse's Presence.

The mouse which dispersed a whole women's rights meeting has turned up again. This time it was in Austria at a great state concert. A famous singer was delivering a famous song. Suddenly a mouse came on the stage from the prompt side. The famous singer stopped, trembled, wavered between fear and etiquette, and then boldly, but somewhat tremulously, continued. The mouse, daunted, perhaps by so much heroism, left the stage and made straight for the bench whereon sat the diplomatic ladies. Why he selected them for attack is not known. When they saw this terrible monster coming straight at them a flutter arose, there was a tremendous struggle between terror and etiquette, and then panic set in. Some of the ladies got on chairs, others skirmined away down the hall. The older courtiers were hor-ribly shocked at this behavior in the presence of royalty, but the emperor, who is a humane and polite sovereign, decreed perfectly gravely that it was quite in accordance with etiquette for ladies to get on chairs in the presence of a mouse.—Chicago News.

Recent experiments show that all classes of foods may be completely digested by a preparation called Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which absolutely digests what you eat. As it is the only combination of all the natural digestants ever devised the demand for it has become enormous. It has never failed to cure the very worst cases of indigestion and it always gives instant relief. Wm.
T. Hill.

Crown Prince in Journalism.
The crown prince of Denmark may have a future as a journalist. A political controversy, had given rise to a good many discussions in the papers, and one article particularly caused much comment, though nobody knew the name of the author. It has now transpired that the article has been written by the crown prince.

Reconsidered

A Topeka man lost a small opal set out of his ring and went to the jeweler to have it replaced. Returning home he found the lost set and putting it in his mouth for safe keeping, hurried back to the jeweler's to have that set used instead of the new opal. Rushing into the store he said:
"Say, I've found the old set, so don't use that new one." He attempted to remove the stone from his mouth, gave a gulp, looked sheepish, and said: "I guess you'll have to use the new stone." That man needed a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Sold by W. T. Hill.

Northern Wisconsin Railroad Lands

are increasing in value from year to year.
Railroads are the great civilizers, for they give the settler as well as the manufacturer equal opportunity to work in undeveloped fields, thereby rapidly settling the country and bringing forth its undiscovered riches.
Northern Wisconsin is rich in iron ore, clay, kaolin, marl, timber and fine farm lands. It has made many a settler independent and added to the wealth of manufacturers who have sought this territory.
Opportunities have not passed, as there is still a generous supply of land which can be obtained at low figures and on easy terms.

cost of same, and how to procure them;
trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES.

In National Contests the Heaviest Outlay
Is Near the Close.

The most expensive work of a national campaign is done during the last three weeks before the election. Every doubtful state and city is closely watched by men prompt to discover every change in the political tide, and money is transmitted in large sums to the localities in which it is believed it will produce the best results. A few days before the election in 1888 West Virginia received $44,000 from the democratic national committee and the Republicans sent $50,000 to the same state. About the same time the Democrats sent $100,000 into Indiana; and three nights before the election Chairman Quay of the Republican national committee sent $300,000 from New York to trusted lieutenants in Fort Wayne, Ind. A fortnight before the election in 1896 the Republicans became doubtful about Iowa, says World's Work. Chairman Hanna at once resolved upon a personal canvass of every doubtful voter in the state. He proposed that every voter not classed on the polling lists either as a downright Democrat or a downright Republican should be visited by some zealous and tactful member of the Republican party.
Before election day the thousands of such men in towns, in cities and in the country were sought out and appealed to by the Republicans most likely to win them; and this canvass is said to have cost the Republican national committee more than $200,000.
Reckoning all the expenses in all the states, it may be roughly estimated that a presidential campaign, including also congressional, gubernatorial and lesser campaigns, causes the total expenditure of perhaps $20,000,000.

RUSSIAN ENGINE.

Largest at Paris Exposition—Has Twelve Driving Wheels.

The most remarkable Russian engine in the Paris exposition is the gigantic twelve wheeled double six-coupled duplex compound on a modification of the Mallet system and bearing the number H. 810. This is by far the biggest and heaviest engine in the whole exhibition, weighing as it does eighty-six tons and having a vast forty-six tender appended, the total weight of tender and engine being therefore no less than 132 tons, while the top of the chimney stands 16 feet 9 inches above the rail level. This mighty locomotive is constructed on the articulated plan, the four-foot driving wheels being coupled in two groups of six each, one being practically a steam bogey, while each group is driven by one high-pressure and one low-pressure cylinder, the respective diameters being 18 1/2 inches and 28 inches, says the Engineering Magazine. In the case of this particular engine, more may be said on behalf of the complex system of articulation employed than in the case of the smaller but similar locomotive. The Russian twelve-wheeler is intended for the haulage of immense loads, and the ascent of steep grades.
It is essential to the development of its full usefulness that it should be able to utilize its entire adhesive weight for traction and that this weight should be distributed as widely as possible upon the rails without such distribution involving an undue length of rigid wheelbase.

Rock Cannon of Malta.

A number of cannon were hewn out of rock at Malta. Malta was full of wonders while the knights held it, but nothing surpassed or even equaled these old rock cannon. Most people are aware that the fortifications at Malta were cut out of the solid rock, but few probably knew of these rock cannon. Brydone, whose travels in Sicily and Malta won great renown before the end of the last century, states that the rock cannon used to defend Malta were unknown anywhere else in the world. The knights left a great block of rock when they hollowed out an embrasure in the cliff, which afterward they shaped and bored in the form of gigantic cannon, which, when loaded, contained a whole barrel of gunpowder. That shovelled in, they plugged it with a great piece of wood, fitted exactly to the bore, as wadding, and loaded up with cannon balls, shells and other deadly materials. About fifty of these rock cannon commanded the spots from which any hostile ship was most likely to approach. The mouths of some were six feet wide and were able to throw 10,000-pound weight of balls or stones, and the falling projectiles covered an area of over 300 square yards.—Tit-Bits.

Immense Herring Traffic.

The annual North sea herring voyage, which begins of the Northumberland coast, has resulted, on the completion of the first stage, in a catch of over 50,000 crans of herrings, valued at about $70,000. A cran contains, according to size, from 600 to 1,000 fish.
As the fish move southward, the big fleet of several hundred sail follows, and it is now making its headquarters at Grimsby, whence its operations will shortly be transferred to Yarmouth and Lowestoft, where the fishing continues until Christmas, and affords employment to many thousands of both men and women, says Tit-Bits. Last year at Yarmouth alone no fewer than 348,000 herrings were landed, and as this year steam fishing boats have largely replaced sailing vessels, it is expected this great total will be far exceeded, for in a single week 12,000 crans have been taken on the northern grounds, giving a return of over $14-000 to the fishermen.

Electric Fountains for Parks.

Electric fountains have become very popular, especially as attractions in amusement parks. In England, particularly, they have lately been installed in large numbers.

Tired Out

And she does not understand why. Her work used to seem so easy. She could tell her whereabouts as the working matches of song which now are again overpowered her happy life. And now she can hardly keep up. Her head pains, her back hurts, and she feels entirely worn out.

What is the matter? The probability is that the stomach is disordered, the liver is not performing its whole duty. Poisons are accumulating in the blood, and unless these are removed and the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition cured and strengthened, there is liable to be a serious illness. There is no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for prompt help and perfect cure for diseases of the stomach and blood. It strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and brings back the happy of health, when life is all gone and sunshine.

At reduced ten months from a complete cure of liver complaint, constipation, indignation, suppression of monthly function, and any disease, too, writes Miss Lida M. Smith of Iowa. "I feel as if I had been cured of my back and head. I am glad to say that six bottles of Golden Medical Discovery and six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets brought me back to health. I feel as if I could cure me entirely. I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine to all sufferers."

Liquids at meals, if taken too often or too carelessly, are liable to dilute the gastric juices. Take no liquid of any kind when food is in the mouth. Take as little as possible till the close of the meal. The digestive agents themselves being liquids it is reasonable to suppose that an excess of liquids taken with this food will have a tendency to dilute and thereby weaken the digestive juices.—February Ladies' Home Journal.
